

PYROTEX SNAP RECLOSABLE SNAP FIRESLEEVE

WORKING TEMPERATURE

CONTINUOUS: 500°F / 260°C

SHORT TERM: 2200°F / 1200°C

ADDED VALUE

- Simple, retrofit installation
- Atlantex's proven performance in an easy-to implement thermal solution
- Increase uptime & protect personnel

MATERIAL COMPOSITION

- Highly texturized E-Glass Fiber
- Braided or knitted insulating substrate
- High-temperature Silicone polymer
- SNAP closure

AVAILABILITY

- Pyrotex SNAP Braid is available in diameters from 3/4" (19mm) to 5" (127mm)
- Fabricate Pyrotex SG Blanket for sleeving larger than 5" (127mm)
- Available in standard RIO, other colors are available upon request

- Self-extinguishing thick-walled insulating sleeve for excellent thermal protection
- Sheds molten metal splash and protects systems from direct flame impingement
- Lightweight and highly flexible composite protective sleeve- exceptional elasticity
- Will not melt, burn, or support combustion- does not emit toxic smoke
- Resistant to hydraulic fluids, fuels, lubricating oil, and water
- Extends service life of assemblies and provides personnel protection

Product Description

Pyrotex SNAP Firesleeve provides the time-tested value of standard, seamless Pyrotex SG Firesleeve in an easy-to-install sleeve solution which can be installed without the need to disconnect existing lines.

Pyrotex SNAP is fabricated from either Pyrotex Industrial Knit or Pyrotex Aerospace-grade Braid Firesleeve, expertly fabricated with a high-temperature snap closure system. Pyrotex SNAP keeps your processes running, and allows for increased uptime and productivity by eliminating the need to disconnect lines in order to resleeve. Bundle multiple lines together with Pyrotex SNAP to provide simultaneous protection with one sleeve and to route hoses, wires, and cables away from hazards.
